ETRUSCAN NECROPOLISES OF CERVETERI AND TARQUINIA

The Etruscan Necropolises of Cerveteri and Tarquinia are ancient cemeteries created by the Etruscans, a people who lived in Italy before the ancient Romans. Here you'll find tombs with colorful wall paintings showing scenes from daily life and ideas about the afterlife. They're UNESCO World Heritage sites because they preserve the art and culture of a very distant time.

THE ETRUSCAN TOMBS WERE PAINTED WITH CHEERFUL SCENES OF FEASTS AND BANQUETS. LOOK AT THE FIGURES IN THIS SCENE: WHAT MIGHT THEY BE SAYING?
